Summary

Hi there! As an enthusiastic and committed entry-level software developer with a strong background in computer science, my name is Alupheo. I am doing my final at WethinkCode_ in software development.

I've always been interested in technology and how it might be used to solve problems in the real world. I became interested in web development and software engineering and learned programming languages and frameworks like Python, Java, and JavaScript as a result of this love.
